ESSENTIAL FORMULAS[™]

With Age Comes Depletion of Essential Nutrients

The best way to keep the body functioning at its optimal health level is to ensure a consistent sleep and exercise schedule and follow a healthy diet. Over time, however, the presence of these three key items is not enough. While they provide an excellent foundation for health, our bodies begin to naturally slow down the production of essential molecules and amino acids that aid in the detoxification process.

Glutathione is an antioxidant present in every cell in the human body and is generally regarded as the 'mother of all antioxidants' or the 'Master Antioxidant' because of its ability to prevent and delay cell damage and help detoxify chemicals in the liver.*

Unfortunately, just when adequate glutathione levels are needed the most, aging and other lifestyle factors adversely affect the natural production of glutathione in the body.

Daily Supplementation of Glutathione

It is logical to assume that all the body needs to boost glutathione levels is to simply consume more foods that contain it, or ingest it in supplemental form. However, increasing the direct supply is difficult due to the body's tendency to break down glutathione supplements into the three individual amino acids that make them up. There is also a lack of effective bioproducts available to meet the needs of how glutathione is processed in the body. In addition, stress and unhealthy lifestyle habits also impact effectiveness.

The good news is that Reg'Activ Essential ME-3 is a probiotic uniquely formulated to be released directly in the intestines due to its ability to bypass normal digestive behavior, thus ensuring the availability of more glutathione to the body.*

A Critical Role in Cellular Function

Maintaining optimal levels are vital for continuing healthy liver function and detoxification processes, healthy immune system responses, and even supporting cardiovascular health.

Reg'Activ Essential ME-3 delivers a unique probiotic that produces and releases glutathione directly into the intestines, bypassing the normal digestive breakdown and ensuring the availability of more glutathione to the body.*

Reg-Activ: The Essential Supplement for Optimal Glutathione Support

A unique option for promoting better glutathione levels comes from the regular use of Reg'Activ products - especially the newly introduced Essential ME-3 formula.*

Reg'Activ Essential ME-3 offers the best option for preserving healthy glutathione levels in the body. Daily supplementation ensures the most effective availability of this key nutrient for optimal health.*

REG'ACTIV[®] ESSENTIAL ME-3[™] GLUTATHIONE SUPPORT SUPPLEMENT

How Reg'Activ Works

Each capsule of Essential ME-3 supplies patented probiotic bacteria, Lactobacillus fermentum ME-3, which:

- Produce and release glutathione molecules as part of their metabolism*
- Extract available glutathione from the cellular environment*
- Promote the efficient recycling of oxidized glutathione back to its active state*

The Key Benefits of Regular Supplementation with Essential ME-3

Antioxidant Activity*

Free radical damage is recognized as one of the primary causes of the aging process. ME-3 produces anti-oxidant enzymes that protect cells from free radical damage and promote the function and regeneration of glutathione.*

Immune System Support*

Glutathione is essential to a healthy immune response- and supports the production of lymphocytes as well as protects against the oxidation of immune cells that combat potentially harmful foreign invaders.*

Healthy Inflammatory Response*

A consistent supply of glutathione supports a healthy inflammatory response by promoting the balance of key inflammatory markers and proteins to support tissue health and proper glucose levels throughout the body.*

Detoxification and Liver Support*

A significant number of free radicals and other toxins are generated during the body's normal processes. It is critical that these biochemicals are removed from the system. This task falls on the liver and detoxification process that is supported by healthy levels of glutathione. Without an adequate supply of glutathione, the liver is unable to fully remove these toxins.*
